End of Part 3

APPENDIX A - SPECIFICATIONS / SCOPE OF WORK

To provide all labour, materials and equipment necessary to install a metal roof on the roof of units contained within 145 Holditch St., Sturgeon Falls.

Prior to beginning any work the contractor must submit to NDHC their employee's Working at Heights Certificates for all people that will be doing the work stated above.

Contractors will rope off the area below the roof and clearly mark with visible signs indicating that work is taking place above. The Contractor will be responsible to ensure that the site is left in a safe condition to protect the residents and the public at all times. - Remove and dispose of any existing flashing in valleys.
- Remove and dispose of the rubber flashing boots around the plumbing pipes.
- Install new deck boards where required.
- Install new drip edge at the eaves before the application of the ice and water shield.
- Install new drip edge on top of new ice and water shield and underlayment on the rakes. Install new ice and water shields over the first six (6) feet from the roof's eaves.
- Install new ice and water shields at valleys before the application of new flashing.
- Install new underlayment on remaining roof area.

- Install new metal roofing panels.
- Install new inside and outside foam closures Install trim/edges/caps.
- Install snow guards/breakers/rails.
- Clean out the eave's troughs.

- Clean the surrounding grounds below from construction debris.

Once the shingles, underlayment material, drip edge, and flashings have been removed from an area of the roof an inspection must be completed by your company.

Your inspection(s) will include inspections of the following:

Your inspection(s) will include the roof deck boards.

Please note pictures are required of the deck boards needing replacement. Any deck boards needing replacing will be at a cost the Contractor has provided on their bid sheet on a per board replacement. Replacement of roof deck boards will be an extra to the contract.

Your inspection will include the plumbing stack vents.

Inspect to see if any of these stack vents are damaged and may need replacing. Check the extensions on the plumbing stacks to ensure they are attached and secure. Should there be any exhaust vents/stacks needing replacing you will show this at the time of inspection. Please note pictures are required for any vents needing replacement. Any exhaust vents needing replacement will be at the cost the Contractor has provided on their bid sheet on a per vent replacement. Replacement of plumbing stacks will be an extra to the contract.

Your inspection will include the maxi vents.

Inspect to see if any of the existing maxi vents are damaged and need replacing. Should any of the existing maxi vents need replacing, you will show this at the time of inspection. Please note pictures are required of the maxi vents needing replacement. Any existing maxi vents needing replacement will be at the cost the Contractor has provided on their bid sheet. Replacement of maxi vents will be an extra to the contract.

Once the inspection(s) have been completed you should know if any replacements of items in your inspection has to be completed and you have been given the authorization to proceed. Please ensure you have received an email from the NDHC representative for any replacements prior to proceeding.

If NDHC has authorized the replacement of some deck boards then replace the deck boards. Contractors will re-nail any loose deck boards. Ensure the roof deck is smooth, properly fastened to the roof trusses, dry and free of any gaps or holes.

Remove all flashings at designated roof locations, along valleys, or gable ends,

Installation of Ice and Water Shield:

Then install new ice and water shield over the drip edge. Install the ice and water membrane to over- hang the eaves by 1/4 "– 3/4" and must extend up the roof over the first six feet (6) from the roof's eaves.

Install the ice and water membrane over the valleys, gable and end walls where the roof elevation changes (photos must be provided of the installation of the ice & water shield). Your invoice will not be processed if you did not follow this requirement.

Installation of underlayment:

Install new underlayment: Apply either asphalt saturated felt or synthetic underlayment, in horizontal courses up the roof with 2" side laps and 4" end laps. Trim the sheet to fit the final course at the peak. One layer of underlayment is required over the entire deck.

Installation of insulation board:

Should the installation of insulation be awarded you will need to install the insulation prior to installing furring strip.

Insulation will be ½ inch or 12.7mm in thickness. This will assist in keeping the metal panels temperature from transferring to the underlayment and deck boards, aid in noise reduction and heat loss.

Insulation shall be placed over the entire roof surface with seams being taped to avoid air pockets and secured through the roof underlayment and down into the deck boards. This installation will follow the manufacturer's instructions. The price for the installation of insulation, materials and labour combined will be shown on the contractor's bid sheet as a lump sum for the complete roof installation, in addition to the base cost of the roof installation. You must provide pictures of this installation prior to proceeding with the work.

Installation of Furring Strips:

Install furring strips running vertically and horizontally forming a grid on the roof approximately two (2) feet on centers, ensure you follow manufacturer's directions for the metal roof. Furring strips will be one-by-four and secured using nails long enough to go through the insulation, underlayment and attach to the roof deck.

The distance of the furring strips will follow the manufacturer's direction of the metal roofing panels. Correctly measure the spacing of furring strips to further decrease condensation. Twenty-four (24) inches is a common spacing of furring strips for a metal roof.

Installation of drip edge:

Install a drip edge at all rakes and along the eaves, overhanging 12 mm with a minimum 50 mm flange on to roof decking. Nail to the deck at 400 mm O.C. maximum (Photos must be provided of this installation). Nail spacing approximately twelve (12) inches apart.

The drip edges can provide additional protection from wind damage, as it helps create an overlap between panels that can prevent wind uplift.

Installation of Metal panels/roofing:

Ensure that panels are installed overlapping one another. Prior to overlapping ensure a strip of double-sided butyl tape is used for a tight seal. All fasteners will be galvanized. If your fasteners are not long enough to penetrate through all of your material, it is safe to say you are not going to have a successful installation. The right fastener must not only be long enough to go through the materials, but you must also take into account the length of the drill bit if you are using self-drilling screws.

Most importantly, you want at least one inch of screw penetration into the material that you are fastening to. The length is usually rounded up to the next half or quarter inch to ensure the fasteners are long enough.

When fastening the overlaps ensure that when fastening the metal roof that the overlap drain channels (hips on the ribs) are aligned correctly and fastened first to ensure that the drain channel will drain properly.

Galvanized Stitch (lap) screws should be placed at all overlaps approximately 24 to 12 inches on center along the path of the butyl tape and at the lap of the panel. Stitch screws are a self-tapping screw used to “stitch” together metal panels where they overlap, as well as to flashing, gutters and trim. Stitch screws will be galvanized and have neoprene washers attached to them. When installing the stitch/lap screws follow the metal roofing manufacturer’s directions for spacing.

Panels will be placed over and round all roof penetrations to ensure that water runs around the roof penetration. Fasteners will be galvanized and long enough to penetrate the metal roofing and attach to the furring strips and run in a straight line horizontally. Exposed fasteners will have rubber sealing washers to increase weather tightness of the panels and to keep water out.

Use 26-gauge metal with a base metal thickness of .48 BMT. A 26-gauge metal roof has more strength, is more impact resistant to hail, can handle higher winds, and heavier snow loads compared to a 24-gauge metal roof. Therefore, we ask for a 26-gauge metal roof.

Steel must have a base metal thickness of .48 BMT.

See section below on foam closures.

Roof Penetrations/vents:

For roof pipe penetrations for the existing roof a combination of rubber and galvanized boot flashing will be required and secured with stitch screws. Ensure a layer of double-sided butyl tape is used and a sealant is applied on top of the tape and around the base of the boot as well as fastened according to manufacturer's direction using stitch screws.

Ensure all pipes are connected to the vents and venting air through the roof and not into the attic or into the soffit areas.

Installation of Foam Closures:

You should always look at the manufacturer's metal roofing installation guide as they will show you which metal roofing flashing details require foam closures.

Metal roofs will require foam closures at the following metal roofing trim conditions: eave trim, ridge cap, peak trim or high side eave, end wall or chimney flashing, pitch break or transition flashing, valley flashing, pre-hung box gutter.

Inside and outside foam closure strips at various metal roofing flashing will be required. It is an important step of the installation process that protects against wind driven rain.

Outside closure strips fill the gap between the raised panel ribs and the ridge cap to keep out insects, vermin and wind-blown rain. This closure strip fits securely over the panel at the ridge.

Inside closure strips are to be installed on the underside of the metal roof panels at the eave line and or fascia board to prevent insects, vermin and wind driven rain from entering under the metal roof.

Installation of Trim/Edges/caps:

Outside and inside foam closures to be used. See above.

The installation of drip edge is also required.

When installing low to high trim the end of the trim will overlap where the alignment of where your roofing panels will end. Line up your low to high trim and lay a strip of double-sided butyl tape where the trim overlaps the metal roofing panel. Place a row of foam closures on top of the double-sided tape. Prior to fastening the trim run a bead of silicone sealant along the top of the foam closures. Place the trim on top of the foam closure and secure the trim through the foam closure and the high seams of the panel. Ensure the screws are long enough to penetrate the high seams of the roof panel and the foam closure.

Install flashing:

Corrosion-resistant flashing must be used to help prevent leaks where a roof meets a wall, another roof, a chimney or other objects that penetrate a roof. Flashing shall conform to the requirements of applicable building code and good roofing practice.

Most experts recommend having the overhang measure anywhere between about an inch-and-a-half and two inches.

Snow guards/breakers/rails:

Are designed to keep large amounts of snow and ice from sliding off a metal roof all at once. While snow rails look like a little fence, snow guards/breakers come in a wide variety of shapes and colors that allow you to choose one that fits the roof's size and style.

Snow guards/breakers/rails will need to be installed on both front and back slopes of the Metal roofs.

When applying the snow guard/breaker install according to manufacturer's spacing layouts and expected snow loads and apply an adequate amount of adhesive on the entire base of the snow guard/breaker and around the base of the guard/breaker to ensure a weather tight seal and proceed to the next guard/breaker.

Eaves trough cleaning:

Ensure eaves troughs have been cleared of roofing debris and ensure the job site has been left in a clean state. Run a magnetic tool through the grass, sidewalks, and parking areas to ensure no steel fasteners have been left in the surrounding area.

It is the responsibility of the contractor to verify field measurements and affected adjacent work are coordinated.

Grounds cleaning:

The contractor will be responsible to restore any grounds or building items affected by the work, to restore these items or grounds to their original condition prior to any work commencing and to the acceptance of NDHC.

The contractor will go over the grounds with a magnetic tool to ensure no metal clippings, screws or any other roofing debris has been left on the grounds.

Waste/Garbage:

All removals and disposals of all materials will be the responsibility of the Contractor. All waste will be disposed of offsite. Contractors will not have access to the garbage bins on site as the waste bins at the buildings are only for household waste only.

Warranties:

As part of the scope of work, the successful Bidder/Contractor shall also warranty their workmanship for a minimum period of two (2) years with a letter or a certificate stating such. This must be provided with your final invoice or prior to receiving your invoice. Your final invoice will not be processed without this documentation.

The warrantee period for the work and systems for this project shall commence upon the correction of all deficiencies and the final acceptance of the work.

The contractor must also provide the warranty information on the metal roofing materials.

Please note: If deficiencies are reported after the installation date and at the time of installation current OBC or scope of work were not followed, then all costs to fix the deficiencies will be the responsibility of the contractor that installed the new metal roof even if these deficiencies are found after the warranty date of installation.

Failure to comply may result in legal action being taken against the contractor and disqualification from future work with NDHC.

Locations and Property Description

145 Holditch St., Sturgeon Falls

Hours of Work:

All work shall be carried out between the hours of 8:30 am to 4:30 pm weekdays (holidays exempt).

Any other times arranged outside of these working hours must be approved by NDHC prior to commencing the work.

Contractor Invoices:

Invoices will be submitted when all proper documentation required has been submitted with the invoice (i.e. if a building permit is required, then the completion of inspection by the Municipality should be attached with the invoice).
